

Please continue with the "no call" listings. What a pleasure it is to come home in the evening and not be constantly interrupted by telemarketers. I dread the thought of going back to having solicitors calling all night.